I have a foundation, the Manifest Your Destiny Foundation. The idea is we want you to create your best life, your destiny. The only way I could do that was to work with the whole family. Every time I would talk to a family on how to achieve your goals someone would say, "I wanted to go to this school, but don't have the money. I wanted to start a business, but don't have the money." Money was the No. 1 scapegoat people used as to why they can't create the life they want.
